Bowser's Moving Castle (Image credit: Nintendo's)ID course: W0P-8X8-XLFBowser's Castle has always been a trap-filled nightmare to navigate and Koopa King is constantly on the run for fresh ideas to bring Mario into possession. However, the deadly jail architect seems to be slightly more sane in his design approach this time around, especially as Bowser's Moving Castle gives players the opportunity to completely erote the various dangers. To clear this course, players must navigate the deadly with the help of different switches. Hitting the switches will summon moving platforms that players can use to cross pools of molten lava, open previously inaccessible paths, and avoid the various traps that inhabit the castle. If you're a fan of Mario's dungeon running, then you'll enjoy the creativity that's displayed in Bowser's Moving Castle. (Picture credit: Nintendo) Course ID: TWW-LCR-VYFHi direction may be missing a high octane action and crazy level design mario maker of more prolific courses, but it has an interesting concept that sets it apart from other levels to solve puzzles. This DS-inspired course tasks players with a view of the top and bottom screen to decipher the puzzle and access the keys that are needed to progress. Each room is mirrored and you will need to carefully scan your surroundings to notice the difference. A lot of great stuff is packed in that direction and although it might not get a heartbeat, it shows how creative the Mario Maker 2 community is. (Picture credit: Nintendo) Course ID: WQV-126-GNFHearing crescendo clunks and euphoric 1-Up sound effects as you even your way through the waves of Goombas and Koopas is as addictive as it is fun. Slide & Jump tasks players by rifting down a snowy mountain, liint through a series of frozen tunnels and jump over craggy crevices to reach the finish line. Springs and straps keep Mario moving at a speed that ensures that your descent never comes to an abrupt end. It's an incredibly simple level, but one that manages to touch what makes Mario series such a joy to play.4. Goomba's Great Adventure (Image credit: Nintendo's)ID course: FHG-COL-D9GJust as True Friendship, this course pulls Maria out of the spotlight and puts one of its enemies in the spotlight – in fact, Nintendo is a resident plumber blocked from the campaign altogether. Instead, players must use Mario to hit the switches in order for Goomba to safely cross its surroundings and reach the final destination. Watching Goomba walk across previously inaccessible trails and stick it away from injury is wonderfully fun, so if you're following a unique course that boasts an impressive level design, then be sure to add Goomba's Great Adventure to your download list. 5. Do not lose against Thwomp! (Picture credit: Nintendo) Course ID: KW5-XS4-6BGDon't lose to Thwomp pits players against Mario's stoney rival in a deadly race that requires both speed and quick reactions. This rate may not be too long, but even the slightest error will send you back to the starting line. Unlike most contestants, Thwomps doesn't seem to care much about human life and will crush you in case you get caught falling behind. There are a bunch of jumps that are designed to catch you feeling uneasy, but if you have a good time, you will be able to reach the finish line without a scratch. Who knew large stone faces could be so fast? 6th Summer Time Fun Wave! (Picture credit card: ID: XLT-4PH-J4GSummer is all about sinking the sun and spending lazy days down the beach, so it was only a matter of time before someone did a surfing inspiring course in Mario Maker 2. This level makes smart use of a fast Lava Lift element to create a spiraling wave that crashes its way through the desert. Players need to ride the wave in order to be able to finish the course, so you have to dig up your board and drive this gnarly wave to the end if you want to be crowned surfing champion. But the claim is that this title is harder than it looks, and you have to navigate the constantly changing wave heights, deadly spikes and flying Cheep Cheeps that are designed to send you plummeting into the depths below. It's best to dig a tape for that. 7. Inflated chaos-calculator 2 (Image credit: Nintendo)Exchange Rate ID: C81-8H4-RGGTo the smart course uses various blocks, Bob-ombs and Buzzy Beetles to add or subtract two numbers from zero to nine. User input is incredibly simple on this course, but the calculation process is far from over. Once you have selected your two numbers and chosen either a plus or minus path, you will take you through a series of complex devices that include bumper shells, falling blocks, claw oscillations, switches and moving platforms. The whole process takes about three minutes to complete and it's an absolute wonder to watch. So much is going on behind the scenes that it's hard not to be embodied because of the time that has had to go in creating that direction. Simply select two digits and let mathematical magic begin!8. Zelda OoT: Deku Tree (Image credit: Nintendo's)Course ID: RQN-JWJ-FQFLegend fans Zelda look forward, now you can relive Ocarina from Time's Great Deku tree level in all its fames. This course has faithfully re-reintroduced the legendary tree and gave it a loving 2D makeover that allows players to go dungeon exploring again. Even Deku Babas, Deku Scrubs and Skulltulas appear in the form of various Mario enemies lookalikes. You will need to navigate the monster infected tree and solve various puzzles in order to finish the course, so grab your confidential sponge power up and start exploring. 9.3D Maze House(Image credit: Nintendo's)ID course: P59-698-55GVeh you know mario maker 2 course is good when even Game Designer, Tom Hall praises his brilliance. This course uses a variety of games, blocks, platforms and wallpapers to create an adventurous first-person game. In addition to the 3D wallpapers is the most impressive feature that is present in the 3D Maze House is its handmade UI. When you enter the maze, you will notice that the map is at the bottom left of the screen and the navigation room on the right that allows you to go between rooms. The current location of Maria is marked by one red block, while the other rooms are marked in blue. The current floor number is also displayed when you descend further into the maze. Even if Dislike Mario Maker's puzzle-rescue courses, you can still appreciate the sheer amount of creativity that went into making this amazing level. 10. Banzai Bounce (Image credit: Nintendo)ID course: Q43-GXB-WHGCeleste is very own Matt Thorson has done some fantastic Mario Make 2 levels, but we think banzai bounce takes the crown. As the name suggests, Banzai bounce behind players jumping on the set of banzai bills to reach the top level. However, one wrong move and you will be sent falling into the depths below. Fortunately, a checkpoint is presented in this course, so you won't have to repeat the whole level if you happen to make a mistake. Once you have the key, you will have to carefully navigate your way back to the level and avoid the angry Banzai Bills who move through the sky. Of course, this is all the easier said than done, especially since this rate has a 3.34% clear rate. Banzai Bounce won't be for everyone, but if you're up for a challenge and you want to scratch that Celeste itch, then this course will do exactly that. (Picture credit: Nintendo) ID course: 5Y0-DNT-PDFThowmps have long been one of the most brutal obstacles of the Mario series, often pulverising Nintendo's titular plumber whenever it captures its stony gaze. However, Thowmp Wall Jump allows Mario to use these rocky traps to constantly jump over various obstacles. To succeed on this map, you will need to follow a set of coins forward and adjust your elevation in order to elude the waves of flying Bob-ombs, Spiny's, and gigantic Bullet Bills. This course may not be too long, but it perfectly proves just how robust Super Mario Maker 2 is of course the creator can be.12. True Friendship(Image credit: nintendo)ID course: RXY-TBS-WGGA the course offers not only one of the most unique gameplay experiences in Super Mario Maker 2, it also has players who doubt their own morality. True friendship is a course that can only be overcome with the help of the friendly giant Koop, so be prepared for some rather wonderful cooperation. Throughout the course, you will be tasked with solving simplified puzzles to allow both yourself and your newly-ossued friend to cross the obstacles that are in front of you. We won't give too much away as it will ruin the level, but after completion you can look at Mario's old-school enemy in a different light.13. Parallel Universe(Image credit: nintendo)ID course: NC5-Y8P-DBGParallel Universe requires that Mario jump between different sub-worlds to solve puzzles and reach the ultimate goal. Most of the course revolves around transforming blocks into coins to help Mario go through them, while more advanced elements require them to warp between worlds to get access to power ups and objects. Although this level is not too hard to complete, it has some creative features that earn you your time well. If you are missing the madness of Super Mario Galaxy, then be sure to add Space to your route list.14. Suntouch Sanctuary(Image credit: nintendo)ID course: 78K-JP3-CYGWhat makes this course stand out from the crowd is its ability to repeat how classic Mario level looks and feels. While creating and overcoming levels that are notoriously difficult can be incredibly satisfying, you can get quite frustrated when you just want to sit back and enjoy a course that doesn't constantly try to kill you. Fortunately, Santouch Sanctuch is not one of these courses – there are actually no nasty surprises or annoying tricks at all. In this course, Mario must use a bunch of elevators and switches to make way to the top of the Shrine. But it's only when you get to the top that you get to the bottom of that, it's a setback to complete the level. Fans of Zelda puzzles and retro Mario levels will feel right at home.15. Super Mario Sunshine's Sand Bird(Image credit: nintendo)ID course: 6DK-1JL-L5G Super Mario Sunshine fans will be delighted that the legendary Sandbird has made its way to Super Mario Maker 2. The blocky bird is back and Mario will have to collect red coins that are dot around the map in order to claim victory. Falling from Peskov's bird will cause immediate death and you will be sent back to the beginning, so be careful your step and be careful when you grab those coins. Playing this course in 2D is definitely a different experience and one that has us wanting more Sunshine goody on Switch.16. Spring Has Switched(Image credit: nintendo)Course ID: J7D-9L6-THGAs name suggests this course is all about using switches and springs to cross your route through the level. Shock switches will often reveal previously inaccessible paths that reward you with springs that you can use to jump over dangerous pits, and even give life vines that Mario can climb. If you press the switch to see the Spiny gang that fired offscreen, then watching when the clustered giant Bob-ombs blew up the previously bulletproof wall is incredibly satisfying. It's all pretty charming and makes for some brilliantly fun moments, especially when you see the domino effect of your actions on screen.17. Self-destruct activated(Image credit: nintendo)ID course: 5CM-J5S-0KFTo us the course reminds us of Indiana Jones's iconic temple run scene from Raiders of the Lost Ark, but instead of escaping from the huge giant wall you're tasked with legging it from the overly big Bill Blaster. Self-destruct activated forces players to pass through the ruins of the castle, taking care to avoid the various enemies and contrasts that are designed to hinder Mario's escape. However, you will need quick reflexes to get out alive, as even one mistake can cause premature destruction. Try to follow the coin path and pick up super stars to increase your chances of escape.18. Table tennis in SMM2! (Picture credit: nintendo) Course ID: 55S-BS4-Y1Gif Smash Ultimate can have a Smashket-Ball, then just honestly, super mario maker 2 has table tennis. To win, players must use the springs installed By Bill Launcher to send a shell that flies in the pow blocks of their enemy. However, this is easier said than done and you will need a decent time to avoid having to agree to any point. When you destroy your enemy's POW Shell Blocks will hit a switch that allows you to walk through a nearby door and provide a well-deserved victory. Make sure to grab a friend and check out the multiple players' version to see who will be crowned champion in table tennis.19. Switch x Switch(Image credit: nintendo)Exchange RATE ID: DRC-S88-TDFS Switch x Switch shares similarities spring has switched the rate since both heavy use of Mario Maker's On/Off switches. If you like the idea of navigating your way through switch-based puzzles while avoiding the fiery hell below, then switch x switch you have covered. Probably the most satisfying part of this level is watching Thwomps turn on and off the switch mechanisms, allowing players to jump between ever-changing platforms. Here are a lot of cool things and we suggest playing this course if you want some inspiration for your creating course.20. Celestial Sprint Speedrun (20s)(Image credit: nintendo)ID course: 7N1-MVB-WKF Go fast is the goal of the game in the Celestial Sprint and you have to channel your inner Sonic jeopps if you want to get it out alive. Celestial Sprint requires that the player make a crazy 20-second line to the finish line – in fact, if you stop running for a second, you will end up failing that course altogether. There are a bunch of traps that are designed to catch you pointless, but if you continue to run and ignore them, you will be able to reach the end of the level with just a second to book. Spare.
